Dear Friend of the BWLC Foundation,

Since its founding in 1996, the Black Women's Leadership Council (BWLC) Foundation has remained committed to helping young African American women pursue their dreams of higher education by providing scholarships.

Through the generosity of our supporters, the BWLC Foundation has awarded scholarships to 302 young women, distributing a total of $285,500. These contributions represent more than financial assistance—they represent an investment in the dreams, potential, and future success of scholars who are working to build brighter futures for themselves and their communities.

Today, we are reaching out to our friends, families, and supporters to ask for your help in continuing this important mission. Your financial contribution, regardless of the amount, will support the BWLC Foundation as we help make dreams come true . . . one scholar at a time. .

Every donation makes a difference. Please complete the enclosed donation form or donations online through the official BWLC Foundation Page.

Thank you for your generosity and your commitment to investing in the educational dreams of our future leaders. With your help, we can continue building on our legacy and extend our impact for generations to come.

With sincere appreciation,

Donna M. Jones
